Intelligence reports confirm Cuban role in Zaire: Percy

ACCORDING TO U.S. Sen. Percy [R., Ill.], government intelligence reports confirm President Carter's assertion that Cuba was behind the military invasion in Zaire.

Percy, at a news conference in his Chicago office, said that while the new evidence supports Carter's charges that Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's troops were behind the African invasion, he does not agree with Carter's related complaint that Congress has "tied" his hands in dealings with Zaire and other illegitimate invasions in African countries.

Percy said that Adm. Stansfield Turner, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, told him in a phone conversation last weekend that "solid evidence" exists linking Cuba to the bloody invasion of Zaire by Katangan rebels.

IN ADDITION, Percy said members of his staff in Washington were shown evidence—presumably intelligence reports from the French Foreign Legion—confirming Cuban involvement.

"I come down on the side of the President in this case," said Percy of the Carter administration's charge that Soviet-trained Cuban advisers led the rebel soldiers. "There is sufficient evidence that the Cubans trained the rebel soldiers."

However, the senator said he disagrees with the defense of Cuba by U.S. Sen. George McGovern [D., S. D.], who said that Cuban Vice President Carlos Rafael Rodriguez told him: "I give you my word, on my honor, that our forces had nothing to do with the Katanga operation."

"I THINK THE evidence will show that Sen. McGovern was misled," Percy said.

Percy said that although there appears to be no doubt of Cuba's involvement in the invasion of Zaire, there is no justification for Carter's charge that recent congressional actions have tied the hands of the President in foreign affairs.

During a news conference in Chicago last week, Carter did not call for a repeal of an amendment forbidding involvement in Communist-held Angola without legislative approval, but did say that the amendment limits his options in dealing with African countries.

PERCY DEFENDED the congressional amendment, saying the President had sufficient options in the Zaire matter and, if he wants to get involved in Angola by aiding anti-Communist factions operating in that country, he has only to ask Congress for approval.

"The President had sufficient authority in the Zaire situation that he chose wisely not to use," Percy said.
